

Paramount Centre Collision

OEM PARTS CONTRACT

Paramount Centre, a premier automotive collision facility, in connection with all major automotive manufactures recommend the use of Original Equipment Parts (OEM) during the repairs of your vehicle.

Most insurance companies specify Aftermarket Parts, Reconditioned Parts, and/or Used Parts on their estimates to reduce their financial responsibility during the repairs of your vehicle. These parts are inferior to the original manufactures quality and specifications and therefore should not be used.

Statement of Customer Responsibility and use of OEM parts.

Paramount Centre will use OEM collision repair parts during the repairs of your vehicle. In the event that the responsible insurance company is unwilling to pay for the use of OEM parts, you, as the vehicle owner will be responsible for the cost difference in the Aftermarket Parts, Reconditioned Parts, and/or Used Parts verses the OEM parts used during the repair. The cost difference may be minimal or substantial depending on the parts specified. Each collision repair and vehicle type differ and the cost of these parts are based on the Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price (MSRP). Paramount Centre will provide, at your request, an estimate of the difference in OEM part pricing on your estimate. This estimate is not binding by Paramount Centre as the OEM supplier may have part price increases from time of the estimate verses receipt of product and additional repairs/parts required after initial disassembly and during repairs.

Furthermore, you, the customer will be responsible to reimburse Paramount Centre for the parts price differences prior to receiving your repaired vehicle.

I hereby authorize the use of OEM parts in the repairs of this vehicle and acknowledge that that there may be additional charges, to which I will be personally responsible, for the difference in parts cost verses what is specified in the approved insurance estimate.
